

Nika Zupančič: Landscapes

16 June–15 July 2023

artKIT

We are pleased to invite you to the opening of Nika Zupančič's exhibition entitled Landscapes, which will take place on Friday, June 16 2023, at 7 p.m., in the exhibition space artKIT. Aleš Kacjan will be performing at the opening.

The painting of Nika Zupančič leads us into the world of abstract artistic language—but which is more than just that—and at the same time into our own inner world of feeling the world, in which we become aware of our chaotic hurrying and at the same time realize that it is time to stop, lest these images disappear too quickly, so that we may never be able to internalize them. At first encounter with her works, the viewer thinks that he has gone into total abstraction, but he quickly realizes that he associates the painted forms with landscapes. Zupančič has created a peculiar artistic language, in which she subtly brings the fragments of nature onto the canvas. Her works could be defined as an abstraction of mimesis, as a personal interpretation of imitating the material world in an abstract artistic manner.

On the same day, June 16 1998, the Association for Culture and Education KIBLA (ACE KIBLA) was founded and we are celebrating our 25th anniversary.
